Guided by Purpose.

ROOTED IN RELATIONSHIP.

with Dannielle Bryan

Dannielle Bryan has been traveling to Peru since 2010 and walking this path since 2005, and for the past 5 years has guided others here with deep intention.

She is well-versed in the land, the people, and Peruvian Andean culture—knowledge built through years of study, lived experience, ceremony, and relationships rooted in trust, respect, and reciprocal exchange.

Through those years of connection, Dannielle has developed meaningful relationships with local families, communities, practitioners, and guides. Those relationships offer opportunities to experience places, traditions, and perspectives that many travelers may never encounter on a typical trip to Peru.

Her guidance blends a deep respect for ancient traditions with a grounded, heart-centered approach—creating journeys that go far beyond sightseeing.

This is more than travel. It's a path of connection, understanding, and remembering.

SAN PEDRO

JULY 3RD-5TH, 2027

OPTIONAL SAN PEDRO CEREMONY

July 3-5, 2027 • Optional Pre-Tour Extension

PERU 2027
A Journey With The Sacred

A JOURNEY WITH THE SACRED PLANT MEDICINE SAN PEDRO

For those called to journey with San Pedro (Wachuma), this optional extension offers the opportunity to experience this sacred Andean plant medicine in Peru. Used ceremonially in the Andes for thousands of years, San Pedro is traditionally associated with opening the heart, deepening our connection with nature, and bringing awareness to patterns or barriers we may be ready to release.

The ceremony is held by experienced local facilitators who remain present throughout the experience, offering grounded guidance and support while allowing each participant the space for their own individual journey.

A JOURNEY WITH SAN PEDRO

The ceremony begins around 8:30-9:00 AM with a gathering, brief introduction and opening ritual before the medicine is served. From there, participants are invited to find their own space and move quietly into their personal experience. To honor each person's process, interaction is kept to a minimum and electronic devices are left behind for the day.

Around noon, the fast is gently broken with fresh fruit. The ceremony continues through the afternoon and closes around 5:00 PM with a gratitude ritual, followed by a nourishing, grounding meal.

Every experience with San Pedro is deeply individual. The intention is not to create a particular outcome, but to create space to listen inward, connect with the natural world and meet whatever arises with presence and care.

The medicine is prepared from sustainably harvested whole San Pedro cactus from Peru's Huaraz region, with cactus bases replanted to support continued growth.

PREPARING FOR CEREMONY

San Pedro ceremony is an invitation to step away from everyday distractions and be fully present with your experience.

Participants are asked to honor the ceremony protocols and arrive prepared—physically, mentally and intentionally.

During ceremony, all electronic devices should remain turned off and in your room for the day.

WHAT TO BRING

- Hat or cap
- Sunscreen
- Layers for changing temperatures
- Water bottle
- Journal + pen

SETTING YOUR INTENTION

Before ceremony, take some time to consider why you are here and what you would like to move toward.

An intention is different from an expectation. Rather than deciding what should happen, think of it as a direction for your attention—something you would like to welcome, explore or deepen.

Keep it simple and positive. Your facilitator may explore your intention with you before the ceremony begins.

DIET & PREPARATION

For the days leading up to ceremony, we recommend keeping things simple, nourishing and well hydrated.

3 days before ceremony: Choose fresh, wholesome foods and plenty of water. Avoid alcohol, recreational drugs, excessive caffeine, pork, heavy/fatty foods and excessive sweets.

Morning of ceremony: Arrive fasting from food and well hydrated. Water and herbal infusions are encouraged.

Travel can make perfect preparation difficult. Simply do the best you can.

COME WITH WILLINGNESS

Perhaps the most important preparation is your mindset. Come willing to be present with yourself, the experience and whatever may arise—without trying to predetermine what the experience should be.

IMPORTANT HEALTH + SAFETY INFORMATION

Because participation in ceremony carries potential risks, please let us know in advance about any medications or supplements you are currently taking, as well as any physical or mental health conditions that may be relevant to your participation.

This information should be shared as early as possible so the ceremony facilitators have the information they need before ceremony.

VOICES FROM THE JOURNEY

The Chakra Gardens are incredible. I honestly couldn't imagine experiencing San Pedro anywhere else. There was something about being surrounded by the gardens and the mountains that made the entire experience feel incredibly safe and sacred.

— Retreat Participant

There was a moment when I was simply lying in the Chakra Gardens listening to the sounds around me, and I remember thinking, 'How lucky am I to be here on this sacred land having this moment.' The setting became part of the medicine.

— Retreat Participant

San Pedro at Willka T'ika is an experience I don't just recommend—it's one I choose to return to and participate in myself. There is something extraordinary about experiencing this medicine within the Chakra Gardens, held by facilitators I know and trust. I wouldn't invite our group into an experience I wasn't willing to step into alongside them."
